WHAT IT TAKES TO BE A MENTOR

College Promise Program mentors meet weekly with their mentee at the student’s high school. The mentoring session lasts about 30 minutes and takes place during school hours. The day of the week and the specific time are determined by the mentor and mentee, depending upon their individual schedules.

College Promise Program mentors receive orientation and training that provides them with the necessary tools to successfully take on this role. College Promise mentors complete a criminal background check, which ensures that each and every mentor meets a high standard of citizenship and protects the interests of all involved.

Nothing is more rewarding than making a difference in the life of a young person. A mentor is a caring adult who freely gives his or her own time to a young person. A mentor can have a profound effect on the amount of a success a young person might have. For a young person, a mentor guarantees that there is someone who cares and that they are not alone in dealing with the everyday challenges they face. Mentors provide a sounding board; an opportunity to talk and be heard; emotional support; encouragement to be more involved at school or in the community; guidance; friendship; support; and, most of all, a positive role model. Mentors provide sound advice and accurate information on issues ranging from school to family and peer relations.

Students with the highest risk of dropping out benefited the most from a mentor (Jikielek et al.). Students who meet regularly with their mentor are 52% less likely than their peers to skip a day of school and 37% less likely to skip a class (Public/Private Ventures Study of Big Brothers/Big Sisters).

Youth who meet regularly with their mentors are 46% less likely than their peers to start using illegal drugs and 27% less likely to start drinking (Public/Private Ventures Study of Big Brothers/Big Sisters).

Mentors can help with homework questions, leading to improved academic skills. 59% of mentored youth improve their grades (Career Beginnings). 86% of mentored youth go on to higher education (Proctor and Gamble).

Young adults who were at risk of falling off but had a mentor were 55% more likely to enroll in college, 78% more likely to volunteer regularly, 90% more interested in becoming a mentor, and 130% more likely to hold leadership positions (The National Mentoring Partnership).

“Mentoring is a brain to pick, and ear to listen, and a push in the right direction.”
